

Peter A. Angelides, Ph.D., AICP
President & Principal

Dr. Peter Angelides is president and principal of Econsult Solutions, Inc. (ESI). Dr. Angelides focuses his work at the intersection of economics and urban development, including real estate, economic development, city planning, transportation, tax policy, valuation, and litigation. He helps clients pursue economic development, gain entitlements, assess feasibility, and prepare grant applications, among other undertakings. He leads ESI's Real Estate and Litigation practices, and he often presents findings in public venues, such as courtrooms or public hearings. His career has covered several sectors, with the underlying theme of how economic thinking and data analysis leads to improved decision making.
