

Solutions For

Medical Marijuana Industry Investors

Our Objective:

Econsult Solutions, Inc. (ESI) can assist businesses in the rapidly growing medical and recreational cannabis industry. Our expertise and experience providing economic, fiscal, and real estate analysis can support clients in license applications, market studies, and development feasibility analysis.

Our Expertise:

ESI has positioned itself as a preferred provider of economic and fiscal analyses. The firm has performed economic impact studies and related analyses for private sector, non-profit, and government entities. Our seasoned team of industry experts can assist in valuing real estate properties and assess strategies for investments. Additional key services include providing financial feasibility analyses, asset & business valuation, SWOT analysis, market studies, and understanding tax policy impacts.

Our Experience:

Support for License Applications: ESI provided the economic and fiscal impact portions for grower and retail license applications in Pennsylvania. The applications focused on economically distressed municipalities and neighborhoods, to contribute local employment opportunities, economic impacts, and tax revenues. We analyzed the need for employment and job creation based on the economic need of proposed locations, and the localized economic and fiscal benefits of grower and distribution facilities.

Support for Real Estate Transactions: In addition to our economic and fiscal analysis in support of license applications, we conducted an economic and fiscal impact study for a potential grow facility in New Jersey. The study estimated the impact of development on the local economy, to support the acquisition of the proposed property location.
