

John LaVaccare

Analyst

John LaVaccare is an analyst at Econsult Solutions, Inc. (ESI). He graduated with a master's degree in Public Policy and Management from Carnegie Mellon University's Heinz College, where he concentrated in Urban Development, gaining academic knowledge in urban planning, sustainability, finance, data analysis, and real estate development along with government and public policy.

Experience

Prior to working at ESI, Mr. LaVaccare gained work experience in local government, housing policy, and stormwater management. Recent experience includes:

- Your Way Home Programs Coordinator, Montgomery County PA, 2021
- Housing Research and Policy Associate, Housing Alliance of Pennsylvania, 2020
- Communications Intern, Nine Mile Run Watershed Association (now known as Upstream Pittsburgh), 2019-2020

Additional Experience

Mr. LaVaccare also has extensive experience in academic communications research, journalism, and professional writing.

Areas of Expertise

Urban Economic Development

Government and Public Policy

Sustainability

Urban Planning

Education

M.S., Public Policy and Management, concentration in Urban Development, Carnegie Mellon University
2021

B.A., Journalism, Philosophy, Michigan State University
2019

Contact

LaVaccare@econsultsolutions.com